INTRODUCTORY NIGHT - JULY 11

Please don't forget that this Saturday, July 11 is the Introductory Square Dance night. There was quite a lot of interest, both in our demo on Gay Pride Day and also in the literature at our booth. A number of people took away pamphlets and there have been subsequent inquiries about the Intro Night.

Everybody is welcome to attend and be an "Angel" to help guide novices through the first moves that Joe will introduce. Just a few suggestions: be gentle and considerate; let Joe do the teaching; smile; be friendly; have fun!

Queen Carmina, as we must now call her, was chosen in an exhaustive and exhausting contest from among a number of aspiring luminaries. Onstage, and off, apparently, she displayed her considerable talents in a fetching (some might say far-fetched) representation of a southern Mexican girl. Not one to give up easily, Queen Carmina, personifying the well-known statement, "it's not over till the fat lady sings", clinched the long contest by demonstrating her abilities as an opera aficionado! Ole!

SERIOUSLY, FOLKS, THIS IS A GREAT TRIBUTE TO TERRY'S PERSONALITY AND IS ALSO AN HONOUR THAT PUTS TRIANGLE SQUARES ON THE MAP AS THE CANADIAN RESIDENCE OF THE HONKY TONK QUEEN, 1992. CONGRATULATIONS, TERRY.

The duties of the Honky Tonk Queen are various and assorted, depending on the energies and invention of the incumbent, but certainly She will be providing us with many edicts that all gay and lesbian square dancers will strain to follow. So watch your hemlines, girls and boys, because this one's off and running!

DANCING AT KEW GARDENS

Steve brought to our attention that each Thursday night, from 7:30 - 9:30 p.m., there's dancing at Kew Gardens, on the ice rink down by the Boardwalk. Some of us are going down to investigate this event as we don't know whether it's level dancing or tuition. We'll let you know.

FALL DANCING

Dancing in the Fall begins on September 10. For the new Basic Class the first two nights are introductory to allow people to make a decision before committing themselves.

Joe will provide tuition for the Basic class from 7 - 8:30, and the new Plus class, which starts right away on Sept. 10, will be from 8:30 - 10:00. Those who want to repeat the Plus class from last year will be welcome to do so.

Further discussion is taking place at the Steering Committee level around plans for those Plus dancers who want to go to Advance. It appears likely that some accommodation will take place for their integration into the Monday night classes starting on September 14 at Church St. Public School.
